Conference Format

A mix of speakers and workshops

The Next Library 2011 conference will be a mix of speakers and open sessions where the participants decide what will happen.

Interactive sessions

The main purpose is to share and co-create knowledge. It is therefore essential that participants are a mix of people from experienced world class libraries, developing library communities and innovation consultants and managers – or simply people with great ideas and knowledge to share.

Join nextlibrary.net

Participate in the discussions; suggest workshops, games & online sessions. You can participate in the dialogue at the Next Library website, even if you do not plan to participate in the event in Aarhus.
